Thanks, John.

Extreme is using the software the same way Brocade used it for its Data Center business.

I can circle back with the product team for more information, but we are not, in any way, using the software outside of the Brocade product offering.

Thanks, again.
Jennifer

Jennifer,

I am counsel for SNMP Research and I did respond to your assignment notice shortly after you sent it in September. I have attached that correspondence. The license between Brocade and SNMP Research is not assignable without SNMP Research's consent and SNMP Research has not provided that consent. If Extreme is using or distributing SNMP Research software it obtained from Brocade then it is doing so without a license. I would be glad to have a call at your earliest convenience to understand how Extreme is using the SNMP Research software so I can discuss an assignment with my client. Let me know when you are available.

Hi Steve,

I hope you are the appropriate contact for this matter.

As you may know, Extreme recently purchased Brocade's Data Center business. The transaction closed on October 27, 2017.

In connection with, and prior to the acquisition, you were forwarded the attached assignment notice in September 2017. Unfortunately, we have not heard back from you, to date. In order for Extreme to be assured of your understanding of the current arrangement, would you please take a moment and sign the attached?

Please note that subsequent to the date of that notice, the parties to the transaction amended their arrangement, so that Extreme directly purchased the Data Center business from Brocade. This change does not affect the assignment of your agreement(s) with Brocade, however, so we are asking you to sign the original notice with this understanding.

Please, also, feel free to call me with any questions or concerns regarding the assignment or the transaction. We do want to ensure our continued mutual success.

Many thanks,

Jennifer
